Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 22-59 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected group of claims, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on Oct. 31, 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Van Grootheest et al. Van Grootheest et al show a hog farrowing system capable of being used in cold environments comprising a farrowing building , a plurality of farrowing boxes 1 within the farrowing building having an entrance 6 to permit the ingress and egress of the female hogs but not the piglets such that the female hogs may enter the alley between the boxes 1 to move, feed and relieve themselves. Van Grootheest et al discloses at col. 2, lines 60-62 that the pig pen is installed in a barn. However, it is silent as to the particularities of the barn, such as it being a hoop or pole barn. The examiner takes Official Notice that hoop and pole barns are well known in the art and the selection of either type of barns would have been within the knowledge of one skilled in the art as a preferred type of housing.

Claims 2, 20 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Van Grootheest et al in view of Nehring (4,442,792). Van Grootheest et al does not disclose a non heated building or a common location for feed and watering stations. Nehring shows a hog farrowing building, capable of being heated by the sunlight during the day but utilizing no supplemental heater (col. 2, lines 25-34), having boxes 26, an alley 14 and common feeding/waterer stations 16. With respect to claim 20, to use the common feeding stations of Nehring with the system of Van Grootheest et al would have been obvious to one skilled in the art in order to entice the female hogs to leave the box and then to further encourage the movement of the piglets when they are older. With respect to claim 2, to use the non-heated barn of Nehring with the system of Van Grootheest et al would have been obvious to one skilled in the art as a well known barn of the art and to provide weather protection for the animals without incurring excessing heating costs. With respect to claim 21, to use the twelve foot measurement of the feeding stations of the combination of Van Grootheest et al and Nehring would have been obvious to one skilled in the art in order to allow a maximum number of animals to feed comfortably at the same time

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Van Grootheest et al in view of Your Future Dairy Barn: Will it be Cold, Have a Modified Environment or be Warm? (www.omafra.gov.on.ca/english/engineer/facts/94-043.htm). Van Grootheest et al does not disclose a non-insulated building. Your Future Dairy Barn teaches the use of cold free stall barns which are not insulated, pg 2-3. With respect to claim 3, to use the non-insulated building of Your Future Dairy Barn with the system of Van Grootheest et al would have been obvious to one skilled in the art in order to provide shelter at a minimum of cost.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6-9 and 11-19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Objections

Claim 10 is objected to because of the following informalities: claim 10 is absent from this application; there is a claim 1 which follows claim 9. Appropriate correction is required. As such, there is no rejection of claim 10, nor has it been indicated as being allowable.

Conclusion

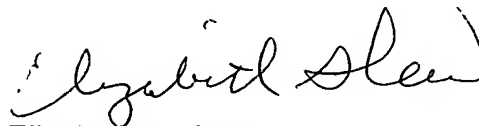

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Included for further reference are: Blair (4,060,054), Ahrens (44,62,335), Moore, Jr. (5,890,454), Opfel (2003/0192485), Chun (2004/0069239) and Ahnlund (WO 89/00003).
